

Coupling Nuts

Portland Bolt manufactures, stocks, & distributes a wide range of coupling nuts to meet structural & non-structural applications.

From standard hex coupling nuts to fully custom machined components, we supply solutions for a wide range of applications

Domestic Manufacturing: Custom product produced in-house for quality control & fast turnaround

Wide Size & Grade Range: Standard & custom configurations available

Project-ready Supply: Ideal for use with threaded rod assemblies & anchor bolt systems

Standard Coupling Nuts: Hex coupling nuts in common diameters & finishes for general use

Heavy Hex Coupling Nuts: Larger wrench flats for structural & high-strength applications

Custom Coupling Nuts: Modified lengths, materials, coatings, & machining for project-specific requirements

Finishes & Coatings: Plain, hot-dip galvanized, & other coatings depending on project requirements

Why Portland Bolt

In-House Manufacturing: Total control over quality & scheduling

Full Certification: Material test reports & compliance with applicable ASTM specifications

Seamless Integration: Pair coupling nuts with threaded rod, anchor bolts, & custom assemblies

Expedited Turnaround: Short lead times to meet demanding schedules
